

Rensselaer

February 25, 2019

ANNOUNCEMENT NEWSFLASH

Faculty Call for Proposals

In this Issue:

- Call Detail

Rensselaer Announcement: Teaching and Learning Collaboratory Faculty Call for Proposals: Submissions Due March 13, 2019

The Office of Undergraduate Education is pleased to announce the fourth annual call for proposals supporting pedagogical innovation from the Rensselaer Teaching and Learning Collaboratory (TLC).

The TLC invites proposals from full time tenure track faculty members or Lecturers/Professors of Practice for piloting and assessing pedagogical innovations, especially those integrating interactive technologies into the classroom. We wish to fund seed projects that will serve as the foundation for external grant applications. Project proposals should entail the implementation of new interactive approaches, including the use of the Beta Classroom, gaming, remote laboratories, or other innovative methods.

For further information on the call and details for applying, click TLC 2019 Proposal Information.