EMBRACING ONLINE TEACHING AND EDUCAUSE WEBINAR ON TRANSFORMATION IN A TIME OF CRISIS

eCampus News has a quick read on Embracing online teaching during the COVID-19 pandemic, written by Dianna Lai Read. In this article, hear from several faculty members that offer examples in the following areas: being present with the right tools, approaching online teaching with a learning mindset, staying organized, and embracing the benefits of technology.

EDUCAUSE is hosting a webinar this Thursday, March 26th from 1:00 pm – 2:00pm ET on Transformation in a Time of Crisis: Changing Course Venues in Midstream. In this webinar, you will hear from community members from a range of institutions that will share what they have been doing to transform online as well as lessons they have learned up to this point. If you have an hour, this looks to be a valuable workshop to learn from as well as offer feedback for discussion.
