Faculty Call for Proposals

Teaching and Learning Collaboratory Faculty Call for Proposals: Submissions due March 16, 2020

The Office of Undergraduate Education is pleased to announce the fifth annual call for proposals supporting pedagogical innovation from the Rensselaer Teaching and Learning Collaboratory (TLC).

The TLC invites proposals from full time tenure track faculty members or lecturers/Professors of Practice for piloting and assessing pedagogical innovations, especially those integrating interactive technologies into the classroom. We wish to fund seed projects that will serve as the foundation for external grant applications. Project proposals should entail the implementation of new interactive approaches, gaming, remote laboratories, potential use of the Beta Classroom, or other innovative methods.
