LEARNING NEWSFLASH

Innovative Strategies and Tools to Enrich Knowledge

Rensselaer Faculty and Staff Webinar Session on Guidelines for Online Teaching

Join in on this webinar session to review information on practices that will help you build a better and more effective online course. There is so much information available that the goal is to try and simplify some of the concepts. This webinar will focus on:

Below are the remaining sessions in the series:

- Fundamental values and practices for online teaching – understand how being present in class, organizing content intuitively, framing activities, offering samples, and committing to continuous improvement can create a space for successful online teaching with your students.
- Review online etiquette for communication
- Discuss practices for establishing discussion boards
- Understanding the terms asynchronous and synchronous and how to think about blending them into your course

This session will be held on Monday, April 26th. To register, please visit the Guidelines for Online Teaching Registration Page.
